Our regular peek over the film horizon

Hello

Happy New Year and welcome to the first film instalment of 2016. There's plenty to look forward to in the next 12 months including a new X-Men film, more from Captain America, Batman going head-to-head with Superman and the much anticipated reboot of Ghostbusters. The year is getting off to a promising start too. In this issue we look at the superhero who smashes the mould in Deadpool, Jane Austen with weapons and attitude in Pride And Prejudice And Zombies, and take an in-depth study of chipmunks. It's eclectic stuff, for sure. Enjoy!

Rumblings, rumours and on-set news from film land

Return of the Gosling

While the last few years might have had their high points in the film world, there was something that was sadly lacking – Gosling. The last time we saw him up on cinema screens was for 2013's often berated Only God Forgives and it's been pretty quiet on the Ryan front ever since. But that all changes this year, with the Drive star involved in a few interesting projects. First up there's The Big Short (see On Screen), then in June he's in The Nice Guys (pictured) starring opposite Russell Crowe in a crime comedy thriller set in the shady underbelly of '70s LA. Then in July he'll play a jazz pianist falling in love in comedy musical La La Land. Ryan is officially back.

ROGUES GALLERY

If you're dreading The Force Awakens disappearing from cinema screens and the long wait for 2017 and Episode VIII then maybe focus your attention on December of this year. Rogue One will be the first standalone film from the Star Wars Anthology series. The film is directed by Godzilla's Gareth Edwards and, chronologically, is set between Revenge Of The Sith and A New Hope, where a band of daring rebels (pictured) set about stealing the plans for a new Death Star (as referenced in A New Hope). The cast includes Felicity Jones and Mads Mikkelsen and will arrive in UK cinemas on 16 December.

First Look

MATT DAMON WILL BE BOURNE AGAIN LATER THIS YEAR.

He has teamed up with two-time Bourne director Paul Greengrass for another outing as the super spy. The Bourne films reshaped the role of the action hero, most significantly inspiring a new, much more modern type of Bond, so it'll be interesting to see what's next for Jason Bourne. At the time of writing the project is still untitled and plot details are unknown. Still, exciting stuff.

Ticking over

After a lot of speculation ➡ Trainspotting 2 is finally happening. Danny Boyle and original cast members including Ewan McGregor, Jonny Lee Miller and Robert Carlyle are all returning. Filming begins in spring for a 2017 release.

NEWSFLASH! As we all know, the DC ➡ clash of the titans, Batman V Superman is coming to cinemas this March and now another DC superhero has been confirmed to make his debut in the film. Ezra Miller's The Flash will be whizzing through for a brief cameo.

Newt Kid On The Block

J.K. Rowling's magizoologist coming to the big screen

Oh, Harry Potter fans, the last couple of years have been a tough old time.

No more Harry, Ron's gone and Hermione don't live here any more. But that pain should be somewhat lessened later this year when the doors to J.K. Rowling's magical world are opened once again. Set 70 years before Harry ditched the Dursleys and headed off to Hogwarts, Fantastic Beasts And Where To Find Them is all about the adventures and findings of Newt Scamander.

The book will be familiar to Harry Potter fans as it is cited as a required textbook for first-year Hogwarts students in the Harry Potter novels - Rowling then followed up her idea by writing the actual book in full under the pseudonym Newt Scamander.

Scamander will be played by Eddie Redmayne in the film, which follows the famed magizoologist's life, beginning in New York's secret community of witches and wizards. Colin Farrell, Gemma Chan and Samantha Morton are also set to star. The film is scheduled to be released in November this year.

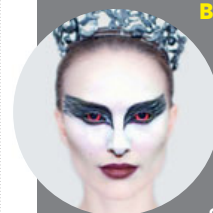

5 YEARS AGO

On February 28, it's Oscar time again. Tears, whooping and Jack Nicholson will all feature once again. Here's who was scooping up a little golden man five years ago.

Now here's something we'd like to see. ➡➡

Ant-Man follow-up, Ant-Man And The Wasp, has been confirmed for a 2018 release and Evangeline Lilly has put forward a great suggestion of who should play her on-screen mother, the missing and original wasp Janet Van Dyne: Michelle Pfeiffer. Does Lilly know something we don't? Watch this space.

Grimsby

Brothers in arms

Certificate: 15

Released: 26 February

Director: Louis Leterrier

Starring: Sacha Baron Cohen, Mark Strong, Penélope Cruz

The new year arrives with the 2015 spy trend still in full effect after Spectre, Bridge Of Spies, Kingsman: The Secret Service, The Man From U.N.C.L.E. and Spy. All were good in their own way - but none had Nobby Grimsby!

Nobby (Baron Cohen) is just your average dim-witted, beer-swilling football hooligan father of 11. Despite living in a less than glamorous area of the north-east of England, Nobby is happy with his lot but for one thing - missing his long-lost younger brother. Little does Nobby know his baby sibling Sebastian (Strong) is, in fact, a deadly MI6 agent and Britain's best spy. Unaware of his brother's super skills, Nobby is soon reunited with him, but the pair are forced to go on the run after uncovering plans for a global terrorist attack.

Will Nobby and Sebastian save the day? If they do, it will be in the most unconventional, Baron Cohen-esque way. Suaveness and grottness combine to make a very different spy comedy. Not for the easily embarrassed!

Goosebumps

Certificate: TBC Released: 5 February

Director: Rob Letterman Starring: Jack Black, Dylan Minnette, Odeya Rush

Get ready for ghouls, ghosts and all sorts of freaky monsters to burst out of the screen and into your lap for a full-on frightfest. Based on R. L. Stine's hugely popular book series, and equally popular '90s TV show, this is one film that is fully suited to the 3D treatment. Jack Black brings his suitably appropriate quirk to the character of author Stine, whose books, after some accidental meddling, spring into life with all his monstrous creations coming out to wreak havoc on the town. Sit back, watch and relax, if you dare... mwah ah ah ah!

Dirty Grandpa

Certificate: 15 Released: 22 January

Director: Dan Mazer Starring: Robert De Niro, Zac Efron, Aubrey Plaza

Proving that you're never too old for a wild road trip, Robert De Niro gets into the driving seat for one downright dirty lesson in how not to sit in one's slippers watching Bargain Hunt. Having recently become widowed, Dick Kelly (De Niro) has no thoughts of taking the rest of his life easy. More to the point, his grandson Jason is just about to enter into marriage - something that Dick takes issue with. And so Jason (Efron) is tricked into taking a road trip with Grandpa to Florida for spring break. Here, with the help of some young and carefree Breakers, Dick sets about loosening up his uptight grandson. Wild comedy.

The Revenant

Certificate: 15 Released: 15 January
 Director: Alejandro González Iñárritu
 Starring: Leonardo DiCaprio, Tom Hardy, Domhnall Gleeson, Will Poulter

Set in the savage wilderness of 19th century South Dakota, Alejandro González Iñárritu's sprawling Western follows tough-as-old-boots mountain man Hugh Glass (DiCaprio) and his pursuit of the men who left him for dead. Having been mauled by a bear, Glass is left to die from his wounds by two members of his hunting party (played by Hardy and Poulter). Big mistake.

A must to watch on the big screen.

Creed

Certificate: 12A Released: 15 January
 Director: Ryan Coogler Starring: Michael B. Jordan, Sylvester Stallone

Another film in the Rocky franchise but in this outing the knockout punch returns. The former world heavyweight champion Rocky Balboa (Stallone) is not coming out of retirement but instead turning his hand to training. His subject? Adonis (Michael B. Jordan), the son of his former friend and rival, Apollo Creed.

Deadpool

Certificate: 15 Released: 4 February
 Director: Tim Miller Starring: Ryan Reynolds, Gina Carano, Ed Skrein

Former Special Ops Wade Wilson (Reynolds) is dying of cancer. His last chance for survival comes through a rogue experiment from a mysterious organisation. Despite the process going horribly wrong, Wilson survives but is left physically and mentally scarred. With new-found abilities of super healing and a seriously twisted mind, Wilson, now Deadpool, sets out to destroy the men who created him.

The Big Short

Money matters

Certificate: 15
 Released: 22 January
 Director: Adam McKay
 Starring: Steve Carell, Brad Pitt, Christian Bale, Ryan Gosling

On paper, the subject of 2008's global economic crash in itself might not be a subject that fills you with anticipation for a good night out at the flicks... but hold your disinterested horses for just one moment.

Adapted from Michael Lewis's bestselling book The Big Short: Inside the Doomsday Machine, the film focuses on four outsiders in the world of high finance who, unlike the banks, media and government, saw the whole crash coming and decided to take advantage of the situation eg taking clients' money out of the housing market and investing it elsewhere. The film is directed by Adam McKay and while this is hardly Anchorman, it is not a straight-up drama either. Many comedic elements are present, so despite the seriousness of the subject matter, The Big Short is far from a dry affair. The cast is a stellar one too, not only for the leading men Carell, Gosling, Bale and Pitt but the film also features Karen Gillan, Rafe Spall, Marisa Tomei and Melissa Leo in prominent roles.

If you think those poor bankers had a bit of a hard time and they weren't that bad really, then you'll certainly have a change of heart by the end of this one.

Just another fun day at the office

Pride And Prejudice And Zombies

Certificate: 15 Released: 11 February
 Director: Burr Steers Starring: Lily James, Lena Headey, Sam Riley, Jack Huston

It's Jane Austen's 19th-century England but not as we know it - a zombie outbreak giving the love story of Elizabeth Bennet and Mr Darcy some added bite. In this reimagining of the classic novel, the Bennet sisters are masters of martial arts while Darcy is a seasoned zombie killer. Pride must be put aside to conquer the undead that are taking over the land. Blood, gore, action and very little needlework.

Our Brand Is Crisis

Certificate: 15 Released: 22 January
 Director: David Gordon Green Starring: Sandra Bullock, Billy Bob Thornton, Anthony Mackie, Scoot McNairy

Sandra Bullock heads up the cast in this political comedy drama set in the heart of Bolivia. Bullock plays Jane Bodine, a seasoned political consultant who has fallen on hard times. She is called out of self-enforced retirement to help campaign to re-elect the not-so-squeaky-clean president of Bolivia. To complicate things, she's going head-to-head with her old nemesis Pat Candy (Thornton).

Also showing

13 Hours: The Secret Soldiers Of Benghazi

Released: 29 January Starring: John Krasinski, Toby Stephens, David Giuntoli

Action drama based on the true story of a terrorist attack on a US Special Mission Compound in Benghazi, Libya.

Room

Released: 15 January Starring: Brie Larson, Jacob Tremblay, Joan Allen

A mother and her five-year-old son flee the room they've been trapped in for the whole of the young boy's life.

Spotlight

Released: 29 January Starring: Mark Ruffalo, Michael Keaton, Rachel McAdams

Drama based on the Boston Globe uncovering a child abuse scandal, which rocked the Catholic church.

Zoolander 2

Fashion icon

Certificate: TBC
 Released: 12 February
 Director: Ben Stiller
 Starring: Ben Stiller, Owen Wilson, Will Ferrell, Benedict Cumberbatch, Penélope Cruz

It may come as a bit of a surprise but it's been 15 years since we were first introduced to Derek Zoolander and his modelling nemesis, Hansel. The 2001 sublimely ridiculous comedy saw Derek (Stiller) coming to the end of his international modelling career in an explosion of ignominy. With his below par awareness of anything but the catwalk, Derek was brainwashed into killing the prime minister of Malaysia. Through some serious teamwork, intelligence and a killer look ('blue steel') good won out.

But in 2016, Derek and Hans are old news, with the androgynous-looking model All (Cumberbatch) the big name on the scene. When Interpol agent Montana Grosso (Cruz) recruits them to help find out who is killing the world's top models, they get to return to the arena of high fashion. Let the ridiculousness begin... again.

Concussion

Certificate: 12A Released: 12 February
 Director: Peter Landesman
 Starring: Will Smith, Gugu Mbatha-Raw, Alec Baldwin, Eddie Marsan

In this sports drama based on a true story, Will Smith plays Dr. Bennet Omalu. Omalu was the forensic neuropathologist who identified and published his findings on CTE (chronic traumatic encephalopathy) - the chronic brain damage suffered by some NFL players. Concussion tells Omalu's story and the repercussions caused by his discovery.

Dad's Army

Certificate: TBC Released: 5 February
 Director: Oliver Parker Starring: Catherine Zeta-Jones, Bill Nighy, Toby Jones, Michael Gambon

It's been almost 40 years since we last saw the lads of Walmington-On-Sea defend the coast of Britain from the Nazis. Now in 2016 they're on the march again. Headed up by Toby Jones and Bill Nighy, in the roles made so famous by Arthur Lowe and John Le Mesurier, Captain Mainwaring and Sgt Wilson lead their men in an operation to dig out a German spy who is working undercover in their town at the back end of WWII. A comedy (if you hadn't guessed!).

How To Be Single

Certificate: TBC Released: 19 February
 Director: Christian Ditter Starring: Dakota Johnson, Alison Brie, Rebel Wilson, Leslie Mann, Jake Lacy

It's time for a new entry into the New York singleton comedy club with Christian Ditter's How To Be Single. A great cast headed up by Johnson and Brie lead the celebration in being young, free and single in the city that never, ever sleeps. The backdrop of New York City never tires of being pleasing to the eye and is forever filled with romantic and comedic episodes. If that's what floats your boat, then How To Be Single should make for a good night out.

The Forest

Certificate: TBC Released: 26 February
 Director: Jason Zada Starring: Natalie Dormer, Taylor Kinney, Yuki Yoshida, Eoin Macken

In the foothills of Mt Fuji in Japan spans the legendary, sprawling Aokigahara Forest. A lovely place for a stroll and a picnic. Is it? IS IT? No, it is not. For when her sister goes missing, young American Sara (Dormer) enters the forest in pursuit of her. Warned to stay on the path, Sara strays into the forest, which is filled with the angry and tormented souls of the dead. Their prey? Those who wander into the forest. Supernatural thriller.

Jem And The Holograms

Certificate: TBC Released: 12 February
 Director: Jon M. Chu Starring: Aubrey Peeples, Stefanie Scott, Juliette Lewis

Based on the short-lived American '80s cartoon, Jem and the Holograms will probably not be that familiar to most of us. Still, here's the set-up. Jem (Peeples) is just a small-town girl who along with her three sisters is catapulted into superstardom. An adventure drama with a big streak of fantasy running through it. Directed by G.I. Joe: Retaliation's Jon M. Chu.

The Finest Hours

Certificate: TBC Released: 29 January
 Director: Craig Gillespie Starring: Chris Pine, Ben Foster, Eric Bana, Casey Affleck, Holliday Grainger

Set in the '50s, when two oil tankers collide during a furious blizzard, all but destroying them, it is down to the coastguard to make a daring and perilous rescue in order to save the lives of the men aboard. Pine plays Captain Bernie Webber - the coastguard in charge of the rescue mission, while Casey Affleck plays Ray Sybert, the ship engineer who inspires those trapped to survive.

Alvin And The Chipmunks: The Road Chip

Certificate: U Released: 12 February
 Director: Walt Becker Starring: Jason Lee, Justin Long, Christina Applegate

The Road Chip is the fourth big-screen outing for the jumper-wearing, all-singing rodents. Here the brothers hit the road to stop their beloved Dave (Lee) from popping the question to his girlfriend - they mistakenly believe that if he does they will lose him forever. Co-starring The Chipettes, with previews on 6 and 7 February.

The 33

Certificate: 12A Released: 29 January
 Director: Patricia Riggan Starring: Antonio Banderas, Rodrigo Santoro, Juliette Binoche, Lou Diamond Phillips

Back in 2010, the world watched in hope and fear as all eyes turned to a collapsed gold and copper mine in Chile. Now the incredible true story of what happened 200 storeys underground over the course of 69 days comes to the big screen. The suffocating environment and the tensions that sparked deep underground are brought to life with Antonio Banderas the big name here.

Also showing

Triple 9

Released: 19 February Starring: Anthony Mackie, Casey Affleck, Kate Winslet

Action drama from Lawless director John Hillcoat. Corrupt cops are blackmailed by the Russian mob into a dangerous mission that goes horribly wrong. Explosive stuff.

Miss Peregrine's Home For Peculiars

Released: 19 February Starring: Eva Green, Samuel L. Jackson, Judi Dench

Family fantasy adventure where children possess incredible powers.

Hail, Caesar!

Released: 26 February Starring: George Clooney, Scarlett Johansson, Josh Brolin

A Hollywood fixer in 50's LA is tasked with tracking down a kidnapped film star. Comedy from the Coen brothers.

Point Break

Here's Johnny

Certificate: 12A
 Released: 12 February
 Director: Ericson Core
 Starring: Luke Bracey, Édgar Ramírez, Delroy Lindo, Teresa Palmer, James Le Gros

Audiences are going to be in two camps. You're either screaming, 'how dare they mess with a classic' or you've never heard of the original and just fancy the look of a bit of action. It can be painful when a film close to your adrenalin-pumping heart is remade but at least with this new Point Break, a sensible path has been trodden. Many elements remain the same: there is a young FBI agent called Johnny Utah (Bracey), who infiltrates a group of robbers led by a charismatic man named Bodhi. One of the big differences here is that the action has been made the focus. The gang are extreme sports athletes, not surfers, and the robberies they pull off are corporate heists - their motives more Robin Hood than chasing the next wave. Extreme and exhilarating action sequences might just make you a convert.

The Hateful Eight

Certificate: TBC Released: 8 January
 Director: Quentin Tarantino
 Starring: Samuel L. Jackson, Kurt Russell, Jennifer Jason Leigh

John Ruth (Russell) is on his way to the town of Red Rock to bring prisoner Daisy Domergue (Leigh) to justice. But during a blizzard they are forced to seek shelter at a stagecoach stopover on a mountain pass. Here they find themselves in the company of some morally dubious chaps. Eight Tarantino characters in an enclosed space = bloody western.

Joy

Certificate: TBC Released: 1 January
 Director: David O. Russell Starring: Jennifer Lawrence, Bradley Cooper, Robert De Niro, Édgar Ramírez

Why not begin the new year with a previously untold tale about the kitchen mop? OK, there's slightly more to it than that but Joy is based on the true story of Joy Mangano (Lawrence) who invented the Miracle Mop in the '90s. American Hustle director David O. Russell has once again assembled some of his favourite faces to paint a poignant picture that puts character, relationships, family and spinning emotions at the very heart of the action.

Ride Along 2

Certificate: TBC Released: 22 January
 Director: Tim Story Starring: Kevin Hart, Ice Cube, Olivia Munn, Ken Jeong, Tika Sumpter, Benjamin Bratt

Ice Cube and Kevin Hart get back in the car for more detective work in the follow-up to the 2014 comedy Ride Along. Ben (Hart) is due to marry his beloved Angela (Sumpter) but, before that, he and brother-in-law-to-be James (Ice Cube) must travel to Miami to investigate the mysterious drug dealer Serge Pope (Bratt). Action, adventure and comedy do, of course, ensue as Ben once again tries to prove himself worthy of taking the hand of Angela.

The Danish Girl

Certificate: 15 Released: 1 January
 Director: Tom Hooper Starring: Eddie Redmayne, Alicia Vikander, Amber Heard, Ben Whishaw

Director Hooper and leading man Redmayne team up again after a successful stint together on Les Misérables (2012). The subject matter is somewhat different this time round with Redmayne playing transgender pioneer and artist Lili Elbe. The film focuses on the inspirational love story between Lili and Gerda Wegener (Vikander) - also an artist - as they navigate their way through Lili's groundbreaking journey.

THE FOREST

Natalie Dormer strays off the path and into a world of terror in supernatural horror, The Forest

When Sara hears about the disappearance of her twin sister in Japan, the young American sets off to find out just what has happened to her. Armed with relentless determination, Sara's investigation takes her to the base of Mount Fuji, where the legendary Aokigahara Forest lies. But within the forest lies much more than trees.

Accompanied by expatriate Aiden (Taylor Kinney) Sara ignores the warning of how she must stay on the path and enters into the eerie wilderness. The deeper she goes into the forest, the darker the world around her becomes. A world where the angry and tormented souls of the dead prey on those who stray too far into the forest.

Produced by David S. Goyer, the writer behind the Batman/Superman franchise, and starring Game Of Thrones' Natalie Dormer, The Forest is one terrifying trip that should not be taken alone. The Forest is in cinemas from 26 February. Dare you enter it?

The Forest comes to cinemas on 26 February. Dare you enter it?

The Mouth

Get ready for Deadpool...
he's not your average
type of superhero

Of Madness

Batman, Superman, Spider-Man, The Avengers, The X-Men; all super, superheroes we love and adore. Gifted with fabulous powers and, above all, driven by a strict moral code; if you've got a problem, these are the guys to call/activate through a big light in the sky.

But it's all a bit nice, really. Isn't it about time we had a superhero who mixed things up a bit? Someone who was a little bit different to the norm. Someone who saw off the enemy with style. Spider-Man's cheeky quips as he webs another bad guy are all very well, but it's all rather wholesome. We need someone more anarchic, someone who just doesn't give two hoots. We need Deadpool. It's been a long time coming, but now we've finally got him.

BONA FIDE ANTI-HERO

To the uninitiated, Deadpool is a superhero who is something of an anomaly within the Marvel Universe. While not a baddie, he's not necessarily a goodie either. In fact, Deadpool is a bona fide anti-hero and after a lot of shouting from the character's fans (and from the film's leading man), 'the merc with the mouth' has finally got his very own film.

Wade Wilson, aka Deadpool, has been at the movies once before. That was in the much maligned 2009 X-Men Origins: Wolverine. Played by Ryan Reynolds, the character's depiction was a notorious misfire, thanks in part to Deadpool having his mouth sewn up - the very foundation of his character being taken away. But the negative feedback was in no way a slight on Reynolds' performance. So much so, in fact, that it's thanks to the actor's enthusiasm for the character, along with some timely 'leaked' test footage of what Deadpool could be in 2014 and the subsequent fans' reaction, that a standalone movie was greenlit and quickly put into production. And so now we have it, ready for release. So what can we expect?

ROGUE EXPERIMENT

Ryan Reynolds plays the former Special Forces operative turned mercenary Wade Wilson. In order to fight the cancer that will kill him, Wilson is coerced into a rogue experiment that will not only cure him but will give him incredible powers - fans of the comic books will know this as the Weapon X programme, the very same project that recreated Wolverine. But there is trouble at t' lab and despite coming out of the experiment with incredibly accelerated healing powers to the point of being practically invulnerable, there is a price to pay. And the men that tried to destroy his life, rather than save it, are the ones who are going to have to cough up.

WADE WILSON

REVENGE IS SWEET

In simplistic terms, it's a story of revenge. But this is not your Batman sort of revenge, this is Deadpool revenge and it's all about character. Now equipped with a dark and twisted sense of humour, a non-conventional super suit and weapons he's not afraid to use, Deadpool's hunt for payback is one that is inclusive like never before. As a comic character, he was the first to really break the fourth wall and speak to the reader - to the point of knowing he's actually a comic character. Bizarrely, it has always worked without taking the audience out of the action and on film, it's no different. In fact, it just draws you in more.

Without giving too much away, Ed Skrein plays Deadpool's antagonist, the super-strong, super-quick Ajax, who has seriously wronged our man. Haywire's Gina Carano plays Ajax's partner in crime, the mighty Angel Dust. Leaning on the side of good is Morena Baccarin, who plays Wade's girlfriend (and a whole lot more) Vanessa. And X-Men fans especially will be looking forward to a prominent role from metal man mountain, Colossus (Andre Tricoteux).

With a script written by Rhett Reese and Paul Wernick, the duo who brought us the fantastic Zombieland (2009), Deadpool finally gets the acerbic lines he needs to justify his reputation as the unhinged, fast-talking super dude that he is. And it's a 15, so you can expect a bit more action and a frisson more fruitiness than your average superhero film, but then Deadpool is not your average type of superhero.

WHO IS DEADPOOL?
TURN TO FIND OUT

A close-up, high-contrast image of the character Deadpool. He is wearing his signature red and black tactical suit. His mask has large, black, almond-shaped eye lenses with white slits. He is holding a black, textured object, likely a weapon handle, in his right hand. The image has a splattered, blood-like texture around the edges.

Under the micros

The scientists here at Escape Labs have been working tirelessly to see if there are any genetic and sociological differences between the domesticated Alvin and the chipmunks and the wild chipmunk, aka 'tamias'. Here are our findings

The wild chipmunk, aka 'tamias'

We put a pair of glasses on a chipmunk. They fell off.

Our chipmunk squeaked a bit and chewed a nut.

We tried to enrol the chipmunks at the local school. They weren't accepted.

Chipmunks stick to an omnivorous diet, consisting of nuts, seeds and fruits.

Chipmunks typically live about three years.

Chipmunks tend to run about in the nude.

We gave our chipmunks a microphone, guitar and some drums – nothing.

cope - chipmunks

Alvin and the chipmunks

7 Simon wears glasses.

6 The chipmunks tend to say 'Dave' a lot.

5 Alvin, Simon and Theodore are in higher education.

4 Alvin, Simon and Theodore have several hit albums.

3 Alvin, Simon and Theodore embrace the threads.

2 Alvin, Simon and Theodore came into being in 1958; they're nearly 60.

1 Alvin, Simon and Theodore eat pizza and crisps.

Our findings

Alvin, Simon and Theodore are much more interesting than the common chipmunk. You can join them on their latest adventure when Alvin And The Chipmunks: The Road Chip hits cinemas on 12 February.

AUSTEN

Just how do you improve on a classic piece
of literature?
Simple, you fill it
with zombies

Pride and Prejudice means different things to different people. To some it's Jane Austen's peerless novel of manners, morals and class, to others it's a brooding Colin Firth popping out of a pond in a very wet white shirt. And then there is Joe Wright's accomplished 2005 feature starring Keira Knightley as Elizabeth Bennet. But despite the high quality of all these Pride & Prejudice films, there was something missing from them. Fine acting, high drama, twists and turns, and fabulous period costumes were all very well but there was a missing ingredient. Then, in 2009 a novel came along that provided the icing to a much-loved cake. It was so simple, Pride and Prejudice lacked flesh-eating characters. And ninjas.

POWER

It lacked flesh-eating zombies and ninjas. And so we got Pride And Prejudice And Zombies.

NEW NICHE GENRE

Seth Grahame-Smith's parody novel kick-started a new niche genre of which his Abraham Lincoln: Vampire Hunter is probably best known. That, of course, got the movie treatment in 2012 and now his Austen-Zombie mash-up is coming to the big screen. And it looks set to wake the living dead.

Fresh from losing her shoe in Disney's Cinderella, Lily James plays Austen's finest heroine, Elizabeth Bennet. Elizabeth is the second eldest of five unmarried sisters, all of whom are at an age when Bennet matriarch, Mrs Bennet (Sally Phillips), wants them to fly the nest and settle down with eligible, and preferably wealthy, bachelors. So far so Pride and Prejudice. But this Regency tale is set in an alternative reality, where thanks to the aftermath of the black plague, the sprawling lands of England are littered with the undead. And though the zombies are considered to be a nuisance, albeit a dangerous one, life in the country carries on as normal, kind of. The Walking Dead this is not.

While Mrs Bennet is obsessed with potential suitors, Mr Bennet (Charles Dance) spends his days training his daughters in martial arts and weaponry. For one day the time will come for everyone to fight. As Mr Bennet says, his daughters are 'trained for war, not the kitchen'.

are Suki Waterhouse as Kitty, Bella Heathcote as eldest Jane, Ellie Bamber as youngest Lydia and Millie Brady as Mary. Playing the sisters' love interests are Sam Riley as Mr Darcy, Douglas Booth as Mr Bingley and Jack Huston as that utter cad Mr Wickham. And do keep an eye out for the brilliant Lena Headey as Lady Catherine de Bourgh - the fearsome and disapproving auntie of Darcy. Expect blood, gore, frights, kick-ass action, battles of the sexes, battles of the zombies, impressive sideburns and some awesome empire line dresses. There really hasn't been anything quite like this before.

Coming soon...

A glimpse at what's on the cinema horizon

Batman V Superman: Dawn Of Justice

Certificate: TBC Released: 25 March

Director: Zack Snyder Starring: Henry Cavill, Ben Affleck, Gal Gadot, Amy Adams, Jeremy Irons, Jesse Eisenberg

Alien vigilante or God-like saviour? The red-caped crusader Superman is left out in the cold by the city he is trying to protect, after the ground zero battle seen in the previous Man of Steel film leaves the city in pieces. 'People hate what they don't understand', Superman's adopted mum Martha wisely notes and the Metropolis Committee decides enough is enough. Batman V Superman: Dawn Of Justice features a showdown between two of DC's most iconic characters and is already making its name as one of the most highly anticipated films of 2016. Not least because of the Ben Affleck debut portrayal of Batman, which sparked a mixed response after being announced by Warner Brothers back in 2013.

Kung Fu Panda 3

Certificate: TBC Released: 11 March
 Directors: Alessandro Carloni, Jennifer Yuh Starring: Jack Black, Angelina Jolie, Dustin Hoffman, Jackie Chan

Fans of the pandas have had to wait a record time for the third instalment of Po's martial art antics, but with multiple adventures of 'awesomeness', the wait is set to pay off. Po is reunited with his long-lost father, but their bonding time is cut short when supervillain Kai makes an appearance.

Angry Birds

Certificate: TBC Released: 13 May Directors: Clay Kaytis, Fergal Reilly Starring: Bill Hader, Jason Sudeikis, Maya Rudolph, Peter Dinklage

Yes you read it right, this animation is based solely on a smartphone game of the same name. The film is set on the characters' native home, Bird Island, and features familiar faces from the game downloaded 1 billion times.

My Big Fat Greek Wedding 2

Certificate: TBC Released: 25 March Director: Kirk Jones Starring: John Corbett, Rita Wilson, Nia Vardalos, John Stamos, Lainie Kazan

The Greeks are back for another knees-up, having spent 14 years recovering from the last one. Toula and Ian are facing their own marital problems while encouraging their daughter to embrace her Greek heritage.

The Jungle Book

Certificate: TBC Released: 15 April Director: Jon Favreau Starring: Scarlett Johansson, Idris Elba, Bill Murray

The Disney adaptation was released almost half a century ago and now Rudyard Kipling's beloved classic, The Jungle Book, has been made into a live-action adaptation. Wild-child Mowgli is a young orphan raised by animals in the jungle and in this modern-day remake, Neel Sethi, playing the lead, will be joined by the voices of some of Hollywood's biggest stars. The talking animals were created by actors mirroring animal behaviour and movements in motion-capture VFX.

Zootropolis

Certificate: TBC Released: 25 March
Director: Byron Howard Starring:
Idris Elba, Shakira, Jason Bateman

It's a case of who framed... the fox and the rabbit, in Disney's newest animation, Zootropolis. Smooth-talking Nick Wilde (Bateman) forms an unlikely duo with the local fuzz, crime-fighting bunny Judy Hopps (Ginnifer Goodwin). Officer Hopps's trail takes an unlikely turn when the chaser and the chasee become the targets.

Risen

Certificate: TBC Released: 18 March
Director: Kevin Reynolds Starring: Tom Felton, Joseph Fiennes, Cliff Curtis

The stones are about to be upturned by biblical proportions, as the story of Jesus Christ's resurrection is... brought to life. Roman soldier Clavius (Fiennes) is tasked with recovering Jesus' body to quash rumours of a resurrected Messiah and an uprising in Jerusalem. Could the impossible be possible?

X-Men: Apocalypse

Certificate: TBC Released: 20 May
Director: Bryan Singer Starring:
Jennifer Lawrence, Rose Byrne, James McAvoy, Michael Fassbender

Bryan Singer is set to raise the bar of the superhero canon in X-Men's next prophetic chapter. Described as the 'darkest' villain in the series, the film's namesake - infamous original mutant, En Sabah Nur (Oscar Isaac) - is set to beat preceding protagonists on the baddie scale, according to writer Simon Kinberg. Along with The Four Horsemen (Storm, Magneto, Archangel and Psylocke), Apocalypse unleashes chaos on regular civilians and the X-Men must use their power to end the reign of terror. The mutants have youth on their side this time, as we travel back to 1984 in this prequel-style feature.

Miles Ahead

Certificate: TBC Released: 22 April Director: Don Cheadle
Starring: Ewan McGregor, Don Cheadle, Michael Stuhlbarg, Emayatzy Corinealdi

Miles Davis once said, "You don't define jazz, jazz is just an attitude", and he certainly has heaps of it, if Don Cheadle's portrayal is anything to go by. The notoriously private jazz musician is widely considered as one of the most influential musicians of the 20th century. Cheadle offers a different take on the biopic, using Davis's music to structure the narrative rather than the chronology of Davis's turbulent life.
